Overdose Data to Action

Working together to prevent overdose and save lives

Overdose Data to Action (OD2A)

OD2A is designed to reduce the overdose epidemic in the U.S. The goal is to increase foundational knowledge of the overdose and substance-use epidemic in Palm Beach County and to connect community members with resources to better inform and positively impact our community.

Substance-Use Disorder Affects Daily Life

Substance Use Disorder (SUD) can impact every aspect of a person's life, from relationships and employment to physical and mental health. People living with SUD may struggle with maintaining routines, accessing health care, and staying connected to support networks. Stigma often prevents individuals from seeking the help they need.

There you can find:

- Newly released Overdose Dashboard showing real-time data on overdose rates in Palm Beach County
- Treatment locator
- Where to get naloxone

Recovery is possible, and every life is worth saving.

HEALTH

The Florida Department of Health reported a 24% decrease in Palm Beach County overdose deaths from 2020 to 2023.

Stigma Can Impact Prevention and Treatment

It's important to help share the knowledge that SUDs, like opioid use disorder, are treatable. People with SUDs need support like those with any other disease. Stigma, or the fear of stigma can also stop someone from sharing their health condition with partners or family members. It may also prevent them from seeking the health or behavioral health services and support services they need.

Examples of Stigma:

- Assuming a person chooses not to change their behavior
- Considering SUD to be a moral failing instead of a medical issue
- Social rejection
- Making assumptions about people who struggle with SUD

Talk to Your Doctor

Healthcare providers can play a vital role in prevention and treatment.

Providers can help with:

- Prescribing medications to manage withdrawal symptoms
- Providing access to naloxone (narcan) to reverse an opioid overdose
- Referrals to treatment programs for long-term support
- Guiding patients through evidence-based care options
